Letter to The Editor

Times-Virginian
Appomattox, Virginia

Dear Mr. Vaughan:

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank all those who assisted in making our recent 1974 Cancer Crusade a tremendous success.

We are especially indebted to Mrs. Ellen Jamerson, 1974 Crusade Chairman, under whose guidance we were successful not only in raising our "Fair Share Goal" but going above the larger "Challenge Goal" to $4,143.74.

It would be too lengthy to thank each of the over 150 volunteers but they know who they are and my sincere admiration is for them.

I would like to single out Mrs. June Chenault, 1974 Vice-Chairman, and the Rev. R. Q. Lawing, who were both definitely instrumental in the success of the drive.

Also, a special thanks to the 65 riders, who participated in the Bike-A-Thon last fall, who raised a whopping $2,104.80 of the final 1974 total.

Eight local citizens have been assisted this year through our American Cancer Society Office in Lynchburg and the county's generosity helped make this possible. The fundings also aided cancer research and education.

In closing, I would like to share what one Virginia American Cancer official recently stated: "Just ask the people in Appomattox whether it's better to have a bike-a-thon, a public clinic or a fund drive. They can always be depended upon to come through 100%."

Most sincerely,
Clyde G. O'Brien, M.D.
President, Appomattox County Unit American Cancer Society

Of Interest To Veterans

Service-Connected Benefits Increased

The President has signed legislation to increase the disability compensation payable to veterans because of disease or injury incurred or aggravated during military service. The new legislation, effective May 1, 1974, also increases the amount of allowance paid for dependents when a veteran is rated 50% or more disabled by the VA.

The payment of service - connected compensation is authorized by Chapter II, Section 314 of Title 38, United States Code, Veterans Benefits. It is significant to note that this new bill authorizes the first increase in the Section 314(k) statutory award since 1952. This is the monthly benefit paid for the loss or loss of use of a limb, an eye, a creative organ, speech, or deafness of both ears. This award, paid for each such loss, has now been increased from $47 to $52 per month.

An adjustment check for May and June will be issued in the first part of July. The check for August will be in the full amount.

The Pastor Speaks

"Let not one of them escape"
I Kings 18:40

When the Project Elijah had received the answer to his prayer, and the fire from heaven had consumed the sacrifice in the presence of all the people, he called upon the assembled Israelites to take the priests of Baal, and sternly cried, "Let not one of them escape." He took them all down to the brook Kishon, and slew them there. So must it be with out sins; they are all doomed, not one must be preserved. Our darling sin must die, spare it not for its much crying. Strike, though it be as dear as an Isaac. Strike, for God struck sin when it was laid upon His own Son. With sterm unflinching purpose must you condemn to death that sin which was once the idol of your heart.

Do you ask how you are to accomplish this? Jesus will be your power. You have grace to overcome sin given you in the covenant of grace; you have strength to win the victory in the crusade against inward lusts, because Christ Jesus has promised to be with you even unto the end. If you would triumph over darkness, set yourself in the presence of the Sun of Righteousness. There is no place so well adapted for the discovery of sin, and recovery from its power and guilt, as the immediate presence of God. Job never knew how to get rid of sin half as well as he did when his eye of faith rested upon God, and then he abhorred himself, and repented in dust and ashes. The fine gold of the Christians is often becoming dim. We need the sacred fire to consume the dross. Let us fly to God. He is a consuming fire; He will not consume our spirit, but our sins. Let the goodness of God excite us to a sacred jealousy and to a holy revenge against those iniquities which are hateful in His sight. Go forth to battle with Amalek in His strength, and utterly destroy the accursed crew: let not one of them escape.

Comment on the International Sunday School lesson for Sunday, July 14, 1974.

Topic: Renewed in Mind and Spirit.

Scripture: Ephesians 4:17 - 6:24.

Earlier in the Letter to the Ephesians, Paul explains that it is the purpose of God that the gospel be preached to the Gentiles and that they, as well as the people of Israel are also objects of His grace. Through the operation of God's grace, Gentiles as well as Jews receive the redemption made possible by the shedding of Christ's blood and forgiveness of sin.

After reading this, the reader of this letter may be somewhat startled to read Paul's further statement, "Now this I affirm and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer live as the Gentiles do . . . " But as he reads on, he not only sees what Paul means, but he also gets a vivid illustration of the fact that grace is the unmerited favor of God.

Paul describes the manner of life which prevailed in the Greek and Roman world of his day, the Gentile world: "the futility of their minds . . . darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart . . . callous . . . given . . . to licentiousness, greedy to practice every kind of uncleanness."

We get a similar picture from the secular, pagan writers of the day, whose accounts portray a selfish, self-indulgent, licentious, immoral people. Their manner of life was contrary to the standards revealed in the Scriptures as God's desire for man's living. Certainly there was nothing here to win the favor of God. Indeed one might say that if God looks at people as people look at people, He would have rejected them completely. But God does not look at people as people look at people, and He extends His grace to all, although no one is worthy of it.

God's grace is not a license to a person to live as he pleases. Acceptance of God's grace involves also the commitment to live according to God's will and standards. As Paul declares in the Letter to the Ephesians, the Gentiles did not learn the manner of life in which they lived from Christ. Acceptance of the redemption accomplished by Christ and of the forgiveness of one's sins requires the individual to "put off the old nature which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful lusts, and be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and put on the new nature, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness."

One theological term used to describe what takes place in a person's acceptance of God's grace in redemption and forgiveness is regeneration. The word means being born again into a new life. This is what Paul says must be the experience of those who would accept God's grace: the old, evil way of life must be abandoned, and a new way of life must be adopted; not only must the old way of life be replaced by the new way, but the mind must be renewed, that is, the individual must change his way of thinking as well as his manner of living. Being born again involves changing into a new life and a new life style, into a new mental attitude.

Paul then gives some specific advice for living which is as pertinent for people today as it was for Ephesian Christians in the first century. A

SHINGTON - The first Session of the Second Session of Congress has concluded. With the first of the year, there have been 248 votes on bills and I have missed 3 of those votes were on motions to partition land between the Hopi and Navajo Indians in Arizona. My voting record in the Session to date is

As you know, the Committee on Rules is brought to the Floor of the House a Resolution to limit the five-minute rule which the Committee during the course of the impeachment inquiry. The five-minute rule limits each member of the Committee a questioning time with all Committees and Committees on all legislative matters. Although I have said on a number of occasions that the impeachment decision should be made as rapidly as possible, I voted against this "five-minute" measure. Had it passed it did not - all it would do to witnesses before the Committee would be limited through Committee rulings with "relevancy" presumed to be decided by the Chairman of the Committee. It is waiting for an elected body of Congress to surrender its rights to a non-elected member.

Recently I had an opportunity to meet with some other members of the Committee on Foreign Services, to meet with the new Defense Minister, Shimon Peres, and that country's ambassador to the United States. Subjects discussed included provision of Phantoms and the Palestinian question. As is well known in the District, I have met Mr. Peres' predecessor, General Moshe Dayan, since the Sinai campaign. I was in Israel at the time, and presented the Sinai Campaign Ribbon by General Rabin.

The House has debated and passed another of those high-sounding bills, or "Motherhood" bills as one to prevent and control juvenile delinquency. Members implied failure from the outset by requesting an authorization for funds on a graduated scaling scale: $75 million for fiscal 1975 and 1976, $100 million for fiscal 1977, and $125 million for fiscal 1978.

Many present residents who were honorably discharged services at the time are reminded that they are entitled to additional pay for the period October - December, 1972. The Air Force is contacting former members at their last known addresses. The Army, Navy, and Marine Corps will leave the initiative with the individual concerned. Any eligible recipient who experiences difficulty in obtaining the funds due them should contact one of our District offices or our Washington office. Those still on active duty will automatically receive this money.

The Department of Transportation has conducted a study at no one knows what cost to establish what many of us were convinced of all along - that Year-Round Daylight Saving Time would not result in substantial fuel savings. According to the study, less than three-quarters of one percent saving was realized this past winter, and the saving was more than offset by the hazards to school students and the inconvenience to families where the mother is employed outside the home. According to reports, the Department will recommend a return to standard time for the months of November through February. It would seem to your Congressman that this is a proper action on the basis of the study.

One of the most frustrating elements in a Congressional office is in attempting to secure information from the various federal agencies. A recent experience is typical. After 14 telephone calls to various offices within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, we were unsuccessful in obtaining copy of regulations in effect less than two years ago. The capper was when the Research Office advised they only do research "into the future". You might well conclude they cannot tell where we have been, and apparently do not know where we are most of the time, any forecast for the future can hardly be reliable.

The material was finally obtained from the Library of Congress.
